NEWS RELEASE

SKYCHAIN TECHNOLOGIES ENTERS STRATEGIC COOPERATION AGREEMENT WITH HONG KONG HOT CHAIN TECHNOLOGY LIMITED

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: November 1, 2018 Vancouver British Columbia Canada; Skychain Technologies Inc. (the "Company") is pleased to announce that its wholly owned subsidiary Miningsky Technology Ltd. has entered into a Strategic Cooperation Agreement ("Framework Agreement") with Hong Kong Hot Chain Technology Limited ("Hot Chain") to host a large number of data mining machines from China in Company's mining facilities in North America.

The Framework Agreement has a term of three and a half years, starting from the date when the Company can supply appropriate hosting sites to Hot Chain with a series of hosting agreements negotiated and executed on specific hosting sites, and Hot Chain will initially provide 50,000 machines (taking up to 120 Mega Watts of power) in the first six months, and an additional 120,000 machines (taking up to 300 Mega Watts of power) during the following 12 month period. Once the aforementioned have been completed, Hot Chain will provide further 120,000 machines per year for the last two-year period.

The Company is looking forward to working closely with Hot Chain to complete the first hosting agreement.

Hot Chain is a Hong Kong and China based blockchain service provider specializing in providing total solutions to large-scale Chinese miners, and its affiliated entities currently have over 200,000 machines running in various mining farms in China.
